put the file in your valve folder then copy the name of the file, then start halflife, hit your console key ~, type playdemo "paste name of file here without quotes", hit submit then wait a sec and the demo should start. I watched both from several views including the other teams, just hit your key that u duck with and it cycles through the different views.